WALLINGFORD MAKES GOOD AND GETS THE COIN IN HONOLULU

J. Rufus Wallingford, world's champion get-rich-quick artist, accompanied by his able confederate and pal, Horace Daw, breezed into Honolulu last evening shortly after eight o'clock with a bankroll of $42 and his nerve. He stuck around for about three hours, turned "square", made a large number of friends and broke into the Carnegie-Rockefeller class.

George M. Cohan's dramatization of the bunco stories from the pen of George Randolph Chester makes one of the best offerings, thus far, in the repertoire of the World's Fair Stock Company, gives each member of the organization an opportunity to extend himself and herself to the limit and proves a laugh getter that it would be hard to beat. Incidentally the stage setting in the final act, which shows a veranda on Wallingford's home after two prosperous years in Battlesburg, Iowa, is one of the finest pieces of work of its kind seen in Honolulu in a long time.

The brilliantly illuminated city, which has grown from a village to a pretentious municipality with a 75, 000 population under the efforts of Wallingford, is shown in the distance with a miniature electric car—one of Wallingford's first ventures—crosses and recrosses a bridge connecting two of Battlesburg's main arteries.
The scenic effect is excellent and called for hearty applause from last night's audience.

Ferdinand Munier, as Wallingford, showed to good advantage and demonstrated his versatility as an actor—in fact this applies to the entire membership of the company. James Dillon, as "Blackie" Daw, was good, while John G. Wray, as Eddie Lamb, the hotel clerk, had a part that might have been written particularly for him.

Virginia Brissac as Fannie Jasper, a stenographer—later Mrs. Wallingford—is the personification of sweetness, while Ruth Van as Dorothy Welles—later Mrs. Daw—is excellent.
But why particularize? Below is the cast of characters, complete, and from top to bottom there is not a member of the cast who did not handle the assigned part in good shape, giving a production worthy of a traveling company.

For fast and furious action from curtain to curtain but few plays have been written that compare with Wallingford. With Chester's strange situations and laugh-getting lines and Cohan's knowledge of stage craft a production has been floated that is a rapid-fire laugh-getter. There is a laugh in almost every line and the World's Fair Stock Company gets every laugh out of the production that Cohan intended to be gotten.

The ease with which Wallingford and Daw "trim a boob" is well known to the average magazine reader who has found it impossible to escape the "Chester habit." In the dramatization "the booby" don't wait to be approached but willingly relieve themselves of their spare cash begging Wallingford to favor them by taking the coin. While the original intention of the pair of grifters was to trim every boob in Battlesburg, clean up about a quarter of a million and blow little Dan Cupid interloper, both so down for the count in the arena of hearts and their efforts to be crooked lead them to the straight and narrow where they clean up in a legiti-mate manner through the manufacturing of covered-headed carpet sacks, the operation of rapid transit lines and other live and up-to-date business ventures. Both marry and live happy ever after.

The love scenes in Wallingford are most refreshing, the mushy manner in which such scenes are usually handled being entirely lacking.

Some stunning costumes are worn by the ladies of the cast, especially Miss Brissac and Margaret Nugent who, as Bessie Meers the headwaitress, is afforded a splendid opportunity to show her ability.

Wallingford will be on the boards at the opera house for the next two nights and should call for an attendance that will necessitate the S. R.
O. sign.

EAT CABBAGE, FISH,

SAUSAGE, NEW BREAD

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness or Upset Stomach if you'll take "Pape's Diapiesin"—Try This!

Do some foods you eat hit back—maste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic let this down: Pape's Diapiesin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes they are slow, but not sure.
"Pape's Diapiesin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapiesin" comes in contact with the stomach—digests just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

AID ASKED FOR CHILDREN'S HOME

A special committee has been named to receive donations for the Japanese Children's Home, a well-known local organization which for some years has been doing a fine work in taking care of homeless Japanese of tender years. The committee consists of Mrs. John T. Gulick and Miss Julia Gulick and will receive any subscriptions that are sent them.

Mrs. Gulick, discussing the need for some outside help, says that although there are a number of regular donations, the home requires some special aid now in view of the large number of children that it is endeavoring to look after. The home shelters schoolchildren coming here from other islands and those who are able to pay board do so. The others, including a number of children, hardly more than tiny infants, are taken care of gratis. Some children whose homes are not suitable for their upbringing are taken care of at the institution.
There is a matron there, a helper and a cook, but a large part of the work, including the care of the younger children, is done by the older inmates.

The house is rented, and the home has no permanent endowment. The Japanese community contributes generously, says Mrs. Gulick, but even with the most scrupulously economical management the number of children now is a tax on the resources, and the appeal for aid is made in the hope of being able to give better and wider service to the community.

Nine customs guards have been arrested, and two others suspended as the result of a government investigation of the San Francisco opium smugglers' ring, of which government officials are said to be the leaders.

Clarence J. Griffin of San Francisco, a dark horse, won the men's open singles in the international tennis tournament at Niagara-On-the-Lake, Ont.

Mrs. Amanda Johnson, a negroess living in Albany, Ore., has just cast her first vote on her eightieth birthday. She was born a slave.

ALLEN RENTON IS MUST TEACH AT HEAD OF
O. C. A. A.

At a meeting of the Oahu College Athletic Association yesterday, Allen Renton was elected president of that organization by an unanimous vote.
Renton has been in Oahu College for four years and is taking a post-graduate course before entering college.
He takes the place of William Coney, who was elected to that office before the close of school last year and has not returned to school this year.

The O. C. A. A. has control of all the athletic affairs of the school and is therefore an important association.
The new president has played football for a number of years, and although he has not taken part in any of the other major sports, he has always been interested in them and has always been a loyal supporter of Purahou.

The Hamburg-American steamship company has asked for a bid from William Cramp and Son Ship Building company of Philadelphia for the building of three new passenger and freight steamships.

Germany's official attitude as regards non-participation in the 1915 exposition has placed the officials in a quandary, as manufacturers are active in their determination to exhibit.

William Niedringhaus, one of the founders of a well-known stamping company in Granite City, Ill., has just died of a heart stroke in that city. He was 82 years old.
